

Rare "barn find" 1967 convertible 4-speed

Posted by OldInjun - 2016/02/12 14:31

Okay, guys & gals, if you're into '67 Pontiac's and don't mind a little work, this is the one to have!

I got a call today from Paul Sindle in Knoxville, TN. He is selling a '67 project car, in storage since 1986. According to Paul the car has the original motor w/4-speed in it. The engine suffered a bent rod in a drag race, but was completely rebuilt (.030 over bore) and has zero miles since. Engine starts & runs. Equipped with rebuilt factory disc brakes (first year available - an option, I believe), and still has the original "disc brake" wheel covers, which Paul claims are very hard-to-find).

The car needs a new top, new upholstery, restoration of bright work. Solid floors & trunk, but some body rust (probably needs a new right fender).

Reportedly this car was featured in a 1969 edition of "Hot Rod Magazine".

Asking price = $7000. Sounds reasonable, considering the engine/trans is worth that much.

This is a rare car. According to my records Pontiac only made 1768 2+2's. Of these only 137 were convertibles w/manual transmission, and only 144 total (coupe & convertible) had the H.O. motor w/4-speed.

Here are figures for currently registered cars:

30 1967 cars total (13 convertibles, 17 coupes)

12 originally HO motor-equipped

7 originally HO motor w/4-speed (4 convertibles, 3 coupes)

Contact Paul @ 865-859-0609 or email at paul@diverseworldwide.com.

=====

Re:Rare "barn find" 1967 convertible H.O. 4-speed

Posted by 2+2=428 - 2016/02/12 15:23

Any pics of this? May be interested! Thanks! Dave

=====

Re:Rare "barn find" 1967 convertible H.O. 4-speed

Posted by OldInjun - 2016/02/12 15:37

He's supposed to send some to me, but call him directly for quicker response.

Happy hunting!

=====

Re:Rare "barn find" 1967 convertible H.O. 4-speed

Posted by 2+2=428 - 2016/02/21 14:55

I sent for the PHS on this and the car is not an H.O. like originally thought. The pics I received show the code on the block "WG" which would be appropriate for a car with a manual transmission but not that of an H.O. Also received a scan of the title showing a lienholder so waiting to hear back if he has something releasing the lien from the car. We'll see what happens...

Dave

=====

Re:Rare "barn find" 1967 convertible H.O. 4-speed

Posted by OldInjun - 2016/02/21 16:09

Thanks for the update.

My original post has been corrected to reflect the WG motor (I left the production data on H.O. cars for informational purposes). I was going by the seller's description - ALWAYS good to check PHS when buying.

=====