

Any '65 2+2 coupes for sale?

In case you might like to sell yours and missed my post in the classified section, I've been talking to Jeff in New Zealand for several weeks and he is hankering for a 2+2.

He's not too particular about options or color, but prefers an automatic car with a fairly rust-free body and frame. He's realistic about the price for a nice car, not looking for a "steal".

If you're thinking about selling, let us know.
