

1969 2+2

Posted by mitch - 2010/10/16 17:40

Hello Im writting from Canada I have a 1969 parisianne 2+2 with the 396 two barrel carb. I have had dreams of restoring this car but have the same story as alot of people. Time and Money have postponed this. The car has spent about 10 years in a garage and is starting to go down hill. The car is in resonable shape inside and out and has never been butchered. I think it still has the factory engine and tranny. I am new to this site and am having trouble getting pictures to upload. I get a message that the picture is over 250kilobites. I was wondering if anyone out there has any info on what this car maybe worth to sell as is? Also if anyone has advice on how to upload pictures to this site I would appreciate some help on that too.

=====

Re:1969 2+2

Posted by OldInjun - 2010/10/16 22:39

Mitch-

Welcome to the Registry!

The website developer has written at length about re-sizing photographs to fit the allowed size. You can find it in the "Articles" tab under "Miscellaneous", or Click here for link.

I do not have a good handle on prices for the Canadian cars - hopefully some of our other members will chime in.

How about you, BigBrother? You're good at valuing cars.

=====

Re:1969 2+2

Posted by BigBrother - 2010/10/17 11:41

This Canadian Poncho website should be a big help for you if you aren't already on it. They should have a good idea of values and I saw a '69 for sale on the site. Good luck.

<http://www.activeboard.com/forum.spark?aBID=118110&subForumID=408981&p=2>

=====