

Web Site Issues

Posted by OldInjun - 2010/06/03 08:57

These are a couple of things that have cropped up during our "shakedown cruise":

1. the security code one has to copy on registration is not easily read. Improvement pending.
2. registration of multiple cars - not the worst problem in the world, for the owner! Until we devise a simpler solution, you can register multiple times, using the same user name & password - just add a digit after the user name. Example: John Doe / John Doe2 / John Doe3, etc.

Let us know if you encounter any other issues.

Thanks!

The security code mechanism on the registration page has been adjusted so it's easier to read (but not so easy that a web bot could decipher it).
