

POCI Convention Bowling Green, KY July 5-9, 2011

For those who've not been to a POCI Convention, I recommend attending. It's like a total immersion in a Pontiac bath.

Details on this year's event are at Click here for link

I haven't seen the agenda yet, but I would guess they will schedule time for specialty "reunions" as at Charleston last year. If so, plan on a 2+2 Reunion - bring your car, yourself, whatever.

See you there!

I have my fee paid and reservations made, and am looking forward to meeting my 2+2 family. The drive from Iowa should be a good test,,if it's still working then.

You'll enjoy meeting Kittle - except for the trans, his car is a twin to yours.

As I write this, I am less than 100 hours from arrival time at Bowling Green. I'll be leaving Monday afternoon, probably driving straight through the night, 755 miles.

Getting pretty psyched. This is my 3rd POCI Convention, and I am looking forward to seeing some great cars, meeting new Pontiac people, seeing those previously met.

If you're going, please leave a message here. Unlike Charleston 2010, there are no formal reunions planned, but if enough 2+2's are there, we can have an impromptu get-together.

Look for me under the blue canopy with the Registry banner, or feel free to call my cell - 302 353-0244. Hope to see you there!

I got home this morning at 4:30AM - 12 1/2 hour drive, left Bowling Green mid-afternoon Saturday. Drove straight through to DE at a steady 75mph.

The car did fine, but I am wiped out, so details & pictures will follow.
