

AACA Judging - Hershey

Posted by OldInjun - 2011/10/11 13:11

I generally try not to brag about my car, but I need to tell someone - just found out that I won a First Junior Award at the AACA Fall Hershey show last Saturday. That qualifies me to compete next year for the Senior Award, a long sought achievement. When I started this project, I had 3 goals in mind: POI Gold Award (have won 3 in a row), a 13-second 1/4 mile (did that last spring), and AACA Senior. With any luck I'll be there by May.
