

RockAuto Goes Mobile!

Posted by RockAuto - 2012/05/07 09:56

Not by your home computer, but need to order a part now? We are pleased to announce that the RockAuto catalog is now mobile friendly!

Auto-detection of mobile devices has been enabled, however, if for some reason your device is not recognized there is a link on the bottom right of our homepage that will bring you to the mobile site.

With a few quick swipes and taps you can find the parts you need for your upcoming repair in no time at all, no matter where you happen to be. We aim to deliver a faster, easy to use experience and hope the mobile version of the RockAuto catalog helps do just that!
