

Clutch rod boot?

Posted by 2+2+3x2 - 2010/06/22 10:57

Anyone had any luck finding a clutch rod boot for a '65? Don' think they're available thru the usual suspects, Ames, PY, etc. Some one on another forum said an early Mustang boot would work, any ideas?

I bought one from Ames, PR214 (page 159 in the old catalogue, can't find my new one) for $13. Fit perfectly.

I'll be trying to work a deal with Ames at some point to help support this site, so please mention that you were referred by the 2+2 Registry!

That's the fork boot, I bought that and it does fit but I'm looking for the rod boot that fits on the clutch rod up by the firewall. Mine has to be replaced.

Hmmm - my mistake. I didn't have to replace that one.
