

Unusual combination for my old 2+2

Posted by easterntrijet - 2013/07/22 14:31

I was the owner of (2) 2+2s but the one I missed the most was a '65 421HO 4spd. The crazy thing about this car was that the original owner didn't order it with ps, pb, or a/c, BUT did order it with PW!

It was a nightmare parallel parking but a joy putting the windows up and down!

rr

=====

Re: Unusual combination for my old 2+2

Posted by OldInjun - 2013/07/22 15:36

Sounds as if the first owner didn't want any accessories draining valuable horsepower. My car was ordered without the PS, PB and AC as well, but I added the power steering after purchase. Having owned a '66 Catalina HO 4-speed without the powers 24 years ago (with younger, stronger arms then) I knew not to repeat that experience.

" easterntrijet " didn't mention it, but he is looking for any info anyone has on the car - originally Burgundy red w/black interior and black vinyl roof. He had bought it from the Zannelli family in Yonkers, NY.

Hopefully someone can help him locate the car.

=====